WHEN BETTER SHIPS ARE BUILT

Efficiency coupled with hustle never fails in the end and again the officers and men at the Portsmouth Navy Yard have been honored. Last evening there came from Washington a telegram to the Editor of The Herald, saying that the order to build the five million dollar submarine mine layer had been given to the Portsmouth Navy Yard. This order comes as the result of "having made good." The men at the yard have built the best submarine in the world at this yard. An effort was made to have this latest "sub" let out by contract—in fact, some newspapers said it would be. The order means steady work for the men on the yard. The victors is theirs.

LIGHTER SINKS AT NEWPORT

Boiler Explosion Sends Craft to Bottom of the Channel

(By Associated Press)

Newport, R. I., July 24—The steam lighter Gertrude sank in the entrance to the channel in the bay this morning in consequence of a boiler explosion. The crew was picked out of the water and taken to the Newport hospital where one was reported severely cut and burned and another not so badly burned.

NO SETTLEMENT OF DIFFERENCES

(By Associated Press)

London, July 24—The conflict in views between the French delegates to the Inter-Allied conference and the American and British financiers regarding the safety guarantees for the protection of investors in the German loan proposed under the Dawes plan remained unreconciled today, according to well informed persons. Formal and informal meetings of the delegates this morning produced no indication of a way out of the impasse.

HAS NEW POLICY TOWARDS RUSSIA

Japan May Rcognize Soviet Government and Resume Relations

Tokio, July 24—A new policy toward Russia in which it is believed the government would be willing to grant recognition to the Soviet government was adopted by the cabinet at an extraordinary session today. The new policy was presented by the Foreign Minister Baron Shidehara and is generally regarded as fixing Japan's terms toward Russia and as making easier agreements between the nations and looking to resumption of diplomatic relations. The vernacular press here declared that the cabinet fully accepts Baron Shidehara's program which was framed in such terms as to satisfy both the army and the navy.

MARINES SEIZE RUM RUNNERS

Boston, July 24—Marines on guard at the navy drug dock in South Boston early today seized a motor boat from which eight men were landing alcohol and loaded it on a truck and arrested the men. The boat and its cargo of nearly 300 cases of alcohol were turned over to the custom authorities.

ARREST ALLEGED BLACKMAILER

New York Man Captured by Detectives as He Takes Money From Ash Can

(By Associated Press)

New York, July 24—Trapped by three detectives as he was taken supposed blackmail money from an ash can in Central Park, a man describing himself as Saul Pickus of the Bronx was arrested here today on a charge of attempting to extort $4000 from Morris Contar, also of the Bronx, by threats of death. Contar, a suit maker, informed the police that he had received a letter threatening death to him and members of his family if he failed to place $4000 in an ash can in Central Park. The detectives placed a package containing $5 in the can and hid in nearby bushes. Pickus soon arrived, according to the detectives and took the money.

ESTIMATE WEALTH OF GERMANY

New York, July 24—The research department of the Bankers' Trust Co. of New York estomates the wealth of Germany today at about $55,000,000,000. This figure makes allowance for territorial losses imposed by the treaty of Versailles.

LEOPOLD MAID STATE WITNESS

Identifies Auto Robe and Typewriter at Chicago Hearing

(By Associated Press)

Chicago, July 24—Elizabeth Sattler, maid in the home of Nathan Leopold, Jr., today identified on the witness stand an underwood portable typewriter, which she said resembled a machine she had seen in the room of her employer's son. She was called by the state in the hearing which is to determine the penalty to be imposed on Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb for the kidnapping and murder of 14-year-old Robert Franks. She added she had seen Nathan Jr., use such a machine many times. It was on this kind of a machine the ransom letters were typed. She was questioned also about the storing place of the automobile robes in the Leopold home. A large fuzzy greenish and badly charred robe, said by the state to have been the remnants of the blood stained robe which the two boys attempted to destroy by soaking it in gasoline and burning it on the lakefront, was offered in evidence. The witness said she had seen a similar robe in the Leopold home. Four University of Chicago classmates of Leopold in the law school were called to tell what they knew of the typewriter. The best they could do was to say the machines they saw at the Leopold home were portable. The portable Underwood offered in evidence by the state was the one grappled from the bottom of a park lagoon by the investigators after the confession of the two youths. As a part of the plan to cover their crime the state pointed out in its opening statement yesterday Loeb had picked the letters from the machine with pliers and strewn them in scattered sections of the lagoon. The bulk of the machine and its cover were cast into another part of the lagoon.

FIRST OF MINE LAYING TYPE FOR U. S. NAVY

Limit of Cost for Hull and Machinery Fixed By Congress at $5,300,000--Plans Made After Extensive Study of War Experiences

Following the conference of naval heads in Washington which Rear Admiral M. M. Taylor, commander of the control forces attended, the secretary of the navy Wilbur announced that the first mine laying submarine of the navy authorized by the last session of Congress will be built at the Portsmouth navy yard while the engines will be constructed in the New York yard. The hull and machinery will cost about $5,300,000 and the sum of $850,000 will be allowed for armor and other equipment.

Rear Admiral Taylor, whose word means a lot in the navy department in submarine matters, has continually advocated the construction of this type of ship at the local yard, as well as much other work on the subs of the Atlantic control force. This means the holding of many expert mechanics in the yard and the continuation of the good work produced here that has been realized by the Navy Department. This submarine will likely be the V-4 and will be built under plans made after extensive study of the war experience of Germany and the Allied Powers with this type of undersea craft.

It will have a surface speed of about 15 knots, and a submerged speed of 8 knots, and is intended as an experimental vessel in order that the Navy Department may determine from practical operation the most desirable type of vessel to meet American naval needs.

Capt. W. M. Hunt, yard manager, stated today that the official notification to construct the submarine had not yet reached him but that there would be no delay in the preliminary work when the departments official orders came through and that Portsmouth would likely make the same impression on the Navy Department in the construction of this ship as it has in the past as far as submarine work is concerned. While it is not officially stated, it is understood that there was an attempt made by those interested in other yards to have the V-4 constructed on the west coast.

FACED DEATH FOR INSURANCE

Syracuse Woman Bound and Gagged Herself and Set Fire to Apartment

Syracuse, N. Y., July 24—Forced by pressing debts and in an effort to collect insurance on her damaged apartment and goods, Miss Frances Stabb early yesterday morning set fire to her home and to lend color to her story of burglars, bound and gagged herself and waited the coming of firemen. The woman was faced with possible death in the fire she had started. In the course of her struggles a woman in her apartment was awakened and rescued her. Other occupants of the building escaped by ladders. To the police Miss Stabb told a thrilling story of waking to find two burglars at her bedside, of being bound and gagged and of watching her rooms ransacked. Her story was broken down only after several hours quizzing.

SAVANNAH TEAM SCORES FIRST WIN

Make Three Double Plays in Game in Which They Defeated N. Y. Workmen 3 to 2

Sunset League Standing

P. A. C.	6	3	.666
DeMolay	6	3	.666
N. Y. Workmen	4	4	.500
Atlantic Dye	4	5	.444
N. Y. Service	4	6	.400
Savannah	3	6	.333

Tonight—P. A. C. vs. Atlantic Dye.

Monday—N. Y. Workmen vs. N. Y. Service.

The U. S. S. Savannah trimmed the Navy Yard Workmen at the Playgrounds last night, 3-2. The sailors were able to get only one hit off the Workmen's pitchers, but this one hit, coupled with slow fielding, was good enough to give them the game. The Navy Yard team played ragged ball, being unable to get their machine into a scoring condition and unable to take advantage of the six misplays committed by the Savannah.

The Navy Yard's first tally came in the third inning. Driscoll led the list with a nice double to centerfield. Cushing got a pass, Crocker sacrificed Driscoll to third and he scored on an error by Lockwood.

The sailors scored all their runs in the third. Pfeiffer walked and was thrown out at second, Cushing to Whitehurst when Douglas reached first on the play. Kelly turned in the only hit that the Savannah got. On the next play he got a long single to centerfield, scoring Douglas. Salmon was safe on a grounder when the workmen failed to get Kelley at third. Lockwood was safe on the fielder's choice, Kelley scoring. Salmon scored when Lowe was thrown out at first. It is seldom that so many runs will come in with only one hit to help them along and no errors on the part of the fielders to help them along. It seemed that the navy yard outfit was playing slow-motion ball.

The feature of the game was the three double plays turned in by the Savannah team. While the sailors made six errors they also played some good fast ball and spoiled the navy yard's chances of scoring by these double-barreled plays. In the first inning Cushing of the navy yard got a single to centerfield. Crocker was safe on an error by Pfeiffer, Gardner was safe on a fielder's choice. Gustafson hit a grounder to Kelley, who threw Cushing out at home and Lockwood threw Gustafson out at first, the play being Kelley to Lockwood to Lowe. The same thing happened in the third inning with Timmons as the batter. Cushing was on third and was thrown out at home when Timmons hit to Pfeiffer. The play was Pfeiffer to Lockwood to Lowe. The last double play of the game was when Lee made a beautiful catch of Timmon's hard fly to the right garden. Gustafson, who was on second, went third after the ball had been caught and started home. The play ended up with Gustafson being thrown out, Lee to Douglas to Lockwood.

Getting the last place in the league as a legacy the Savannah is striving to improve every shining opportunity. The win last night puts them up a few notches and in front of the .300 mark. They got the breaks in the game and made too many errors to win many ball games, but they also showed that they can play good fast ball too. No other team in the league has made so many double plays in one game and some of the teams haven't made as many in all their games. With more time for practice and batting the ball around the sailors should be able to add a few more notches to their score. Summary:

NEWSY NOTES AROUND TOWN

Some of the old time mariners frown when they read the numerous accounts of the ocean going vessels getting into trouble. They think that the mariners of today are not as capable as the old timers. There may be sufficient grounds for such thoughts.

Already the bathing beauties are enrolling for the Hampton Beach Carnival this season. The beauty contest will be one of the main attractions. Looking over the mermaids who add color and scenic effect to the beach at the famous resort it is easily discernable that the contest will be a hotly contested one. The job of bathing beauty censor at Hampton will not be the kind of a job that many men would throw down. None of the beauties are hard to look at.

Blueberries are on the market but the record pickers are as scarce as drops of rain water right now.

A device for storing up some of this summer heat for winter would be a very useful thing. If we could let some of these summer breezes on a snow pile in the middle of January the snow pile would make a hasty exit.

If sidewalks were made every two feet apart on the streets where traffic is heaviest there would be plenty of pedestrians who would walk in the two feet of space where there weren't any sidewalks.

Some people must sit up until the wee hours of the morning in order to get peace and quiet without fear of traffic cops, to race their automobiles. Residents living near the main roads of travel tell of hearing automobiles going along at top speed in the still hours of the night.

Every now and then an old "one lung" auto pops into sight showing the popular machine as it used to be. There are only a few more of these left but they still get there. The evolution of the automobile has been a fast and complete one.

Once to have to camp along the way of a long journey was considered a hardship. Now it is one of the favorite pastimes to go on a camping tour in the summer time. The conditions for camping are somewhat different than they were in the days of the covered wagon. The Indians are minus. All the comforts of home can be taken along and the radio keeps you in touch with the world no matter how remote your camp site.

Fish are naturally curious beings. We wonder what consternation the great submarines must cause among the inhabitants of the briny deep. Whales and sharks must get white around the gills when they see these unaccountable monsters suddenly appear from nowhere.

Merchants at the beaches report that the season to date is way ahead of last year. They are happy in the continued draught which only goes to prove that "it is an ill wind that blows no one good." The people at the beaches all join heartily in singing "It Ain't Goin' to Rain No More."

The oldest inhabitant cannot remember when we had such an extended hot spell before. The Currier swimming club members admit that never before has there been a season when swimming was such a pleasure and this sentiment is backed up by all the frequenters of swimming holes within a radius of ten miles. The water has been warmer this year than usual also.

New Hampshire's eighteen miles of seacoast is proving to be the summer playground of New England. Conventions, outings, and parties of all sorts are utilizing our resorts to the fullest extent.

		DOUBLE-FACED Number	List Price
Manon—Gavotte—Obéissons quand leur voix appelle (Hear the Voice of Youth) (Massenet) In French — Amelita Galli-Curci Don César de Bazan—Sevillana (Fair Maidens of Seville) (Massenet) In French — Amelita Galli-Curci		1018	$1.50

Dainty and vivacious numbers from Massenet operas—difficult but with the difficulties hidden in the joy of accomplishment. The stately measures of the classical gavotte are embellished by turns, roulades, and wonderful high notes. The "Sevillana," of course, is in Spanish style. Victor recording reveals the peculiar beauties of both numbers.

Carmen—Soldiers Changing the Guard (Bizet) — Stokowski and Philadelphia Orchestra Carmen—March of the Smugglers (Bizet) — Stokowski and Philadelphia Orchestra		1017	1.50

Most music-lovers know Stokowski's marvelous record, with the Philadelphia Orchestra, of the brilliant Prelude to Carmen. Here are two more numbers from the same opera. Superbly played records; each instrumental note glows like a jewel with its own distinctive color.

Light Vocal Selections

Little Alabama Coon — Shannon Quartet My Creole Sue — Shannon Quartet		19343	.75

Two world-favorite quartet numbers, one of them a pick-a-ninny song and the other a love-ditty for four male voices, in the popular manner. Records that will delight every one who has the natural instinctive liking for male voices in concert.

You're in Love with Everyone — Franklyn Baur Swanee River Rose — Helen Clark-Lewis James		19368	.75

The individual with the omnibus heart comes in for melodious reproach in a popular waltz song, and the Swanee yields another song in the ensuing duet for soprano and tenor. Splendid examples of what Victor recording does for popular songs.

Nobody's Sweetheart — Aileen Stanley-Billy Murray It Had to Be You — Aileen Stanley-Billy Murray		19373	.75

Aileen Stanley and Billy Murray have done remarkable "team-work" in recorded vaudeville. These records, mingling pathos and humor, are among their very best.

Dance Records

A New Kind of Man—Fox Trot He's the Hottest Man in Town—Fox Trot	George Olsen and His Music	19375	.75

First Victor Record by this Pacific coast organization, brought three thousand miles from the Hotel Portland (Oregon), to feature in the Ziegfeld production, "Kid Boots." Both records are full of trick instrumental effects, and they sound about fifty musicians strong—though they aren't.

Maytime—Fox Trot — Waring's Pennsylvanians Plain Jane—Fox Trot (Introducing "Don't Take Your Troubles to Bed") — International Novelty Orchestra		19367	.75

A finely melodious fox trot, introducing bits of Mendelssohn's "Spring Song," followed by a jolly one from "Plain Jane" which adheres to its own form of musical speech. Dancers who appreciate lightness and grace will welcome these records.

Pretty Soon—Fox Trot — Jan Garber and His Orchestra Please—Fox Trot — Jan Garber and His Orchestra		19376	.75

Good melodious fox trots with plenty of rhythm and orchestral color. The melodies—and the rhythms—of both alternate between the stately and the comic in style. Recorded as only the Victor knows how.

ON DEEP SEA FISHING TRIP

With the real summer weather that we have been having fishing parties have proved very popular. There are those who go fishing for the fun of catching the inhabitants of the seas; there are those who go fishing because of a love of the water, and there are those who go fishing to get out where the cool breezes blow. This morning a party of local young men started on a fishing trip out to the deep waters beyond the Shoals. They hope to bring home enough fish to supply them with dinner on Friday. Those who made the trip were Jack Robinson, "Bon" Conlon, "Whitey" Philbrick, "Kid" Gleason, "Al" Atwood, "Bill" Henson, "Jo" Vincentgerri, "Wally" Marshall, "Ed" Heffernan, and "Bo" Garland. They went out in a 33 ft. power boat and as each has quite a reputation as an amateur fisherman the fish are due to have an active time today.

FALSE LABELS LEAD BERLIN STORES INTO SERIOUS TROUBLE

Berlin.—On the theory that "all that glitters is not gold," a new city ordinance makes it a misdemeanor for merchants to mislabel goods displayed in their shop windows. If glass or some kind of stone is shown with a tag contending that it is a diamond, and it is discovered that the article in question is an imitation, then the merchant is subject to a fine and imprisonment.

The ordinance applies also to food, and when liverwurst is displayed in stores, it must be liverwurst, and not meat from overseas which has been brought here in refrigerators.

HUNTERS OF BIG GAME SPEND FREELY FOR ALASKAN TROPHIES

Cordova, Alaska.—Hunting trips in Alaska by non-residents of the territory cost from $400 to $7,100, according to Ernest P. Walker, head of the Biological Survey for Alaska, who has received answers from questionaires sent 44 outside sportsmen making a total of 52 trips.

"The total amount spent for the fifty-two hunting trips was $107,587.50," stated Mr. Walker. "Of this, $5,000 was for licenses and export fees, and the remainder for guides, outfits, transportation, curios and incidentals. The average trip cost $2,069. Three hundred and twelve game animals were taken at an average cost of $328.79 per animal. The least expensive trip cost $400 and the highest was $7,100. Scientific explorations and photographic expeditions were not included in the returns."

Don't be a slave to an Old Idea

Potatoes are dirty and messy, and peeling them every day keeps your hands red, rough and grimy. It takes you from 35 to 40 minutes to peel and cook them—a lot of time when you're in a hurry.

Get away from the Old Idea and serve Mueller's Macaroni, Elbow Macaroni, Spaghetti and Egg Noodles in place of potatoes. Only 9 minutes to cook, nothing to even soil your hands, no waste—100% pure, wholesome food.

You can serve Mueller's just as you do potatoes—with butter, with sauces, with meat gravies or with sauerkraut. Instead of creamed potatoes, serve Mueller's Elbow Macaroni prepared the same way. In place of potatoes au gratin, use any one of the Mueller Foods; instead of fried potatoes fry Mueller's Egg Noodles.

The Fraud Toll

Additional figures relative to the amount the American public is mulcted of each year is given by District Attorney Banton of New York City, who places last year's total at $1,750,000,000.

Even though distributed over a population of more than 100,000,000, this is no mean sum. It is money largely taken from the pockets of those who are in no position to risk their earnings, much less lose it all with one full swoop in wild cat schemes which promise thousand sfor a few dollars invested. The professional swindler is at every hand. He stands on street corners and sells choice oil options; he knocks at back doors and sells choice jewelry; he sits in elaborately appointed offices with the air of a bank president and executes million dollar deals over the telephone while widows and aged in outer offices, marvel at his worldiness and business acument and feel their money is quite safe in his hands.

If the American people like to be fooled, they like especially to be fooled in money matters, as Bantonis figures indicate. They seem to take strange joy in seeing hard earned dollars shooting down the scenic railway to oblivion and other people's pockets.

Oloha Oe

A strip of beach land at Maunawili, on the windward side of the Island of Oahu, Hawaii, has been sold for real estate purposes. This unassuming bit of advice was received in the regular mail correspondence from Honolulu, but it contained something of more pertinent interest.

It was on this same strip of land, on this same island, that Queen Liliuokalani received the inspiration for Hawaii's best known song "Aloha Oe," or "Farewell to Thee," which was the precursor of an invasion of Hawaiian musical endeavors which continues to this day and whose latest installment is "Say It on a Ukelele." The queen, returning from a visit to a ranch, saw two lovers stand upon the beach and kiss each other, presumably farewell. Returning, the queen composed the music and words on horseback, for in Hawaii, royalty still clings to the saddle, we are told.

What will be the effect upon Aloha Oe's lover when he returns from "across the sea" and finds his trysting place cut up into choice building lots. Will it spoil the Hawaiian delusion? Or will it presage a new outbreak of South Pacific melody. It is hard to tell. Anything can happen these days. It may even break up a romance!

A Motor Vessel Fleet

Preliminary plans for construction of two motor driven vessels of the George Washington type are under consideration by the shipping board and will be presented congress next term. The vessel will be of 32,500 tons register and will be capable of 20 knots an hour. The essential plan is to round out our European service, but it is also pointed out the vessels will have a high value during wartime.

The motor driven vessel is no longer a novelty. On the ways in European ports several vessels in excess of 20,000 tonnage are in the process of building. The trend, in fact, seems to be away from the coal burner. If the United States wished to retain the eminence in the shipping world it gained during the war and after, it would bend its efforts to keeping abreast of the times, as the shipping board indicates it is doing. A nation strong on the sea is strong on the land.

NEWSY NOTES FROM NEW CASTLE

The Dailey Circle of King's Daughters enjoyed its annual picnic on Wednesday at Rye Beach where they were entertained by Captain and Mrs. Benjamin Ricker at the old life saving station. In the party were 19 women and 7 children and all said it was the most enjoyable picnic they had ever participated in. The weather was ideal and it was good to pass the entire day in the open. The trip to the beach to and from New Castle was made by bus and all carried basket lunches. Upon their arrival all found diversions in plenty. Bathing and games were enjoyed on the beach and music and dancing furnished entertainment indoors. A picnic lunch was enjoyed at noon with the addition of hot coffee and in the afternoon hot gingerbread and ice cream was served the party. Captain and Mrs. Ricker did everything to have the party enjoy themselves and all much appreciated their hospitality. The return to New Castle was at five-thirty o'clock and the trip really seemed "the end of a perfect day."

The pageant committee has had several rehearsals recently and plans are going along finely. A meeting of the costume committee will be held this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Byron Yeaton when a good number of costumes are to be made.

George Randall has so far recovered from his recent illness as to be able to be out.

Charles Amazeen of the Rye Beach coast guard station passed Wednesday at the home of his mother, Mrs. C. B. Amazeen.

FUNERAL OF LATE EX-MAYOR BARRETT

Dover's business houses were closed on Tuesday afternoon during the funeral services of Ex-Mayor George D. Barrett. The services were held at the family residence, 28 Elm St., and were conducted by Rev. Lewis E. Purlum of the First Parish Congregational church. The body was taken on an afternoon train to Edmeston, N. Y., for burial. The bearers were Ex-Mayors Arthur G. Whittimore and Michael J. White, Col. Charles M.Corson and Edwin C. Colbath, representing the Dover Cooperative Bank; Postmaster Thomas H. Dearborn, William H. Roberts, W. D. Davol of Boston and John W. Emery of Portsmouth.

Captain Austin Kautz, U. S. N., of Washington, D. C., has joined his family at the home of Mrs. H. E. Hovey on State street.

WILBUR PLEASED WITH HIS VISIT

President Knight of Chamber of Commerce Receives Letter From Navy Secretary

Secretary of the Navy Curtis D. Wilbur evidently was much pleased with his visit to Portsmouth, as today President Frank W. Knight of the Chamber of Commerce received the following communication:

"July 21, 1924.

"My dear Mr. Knight:—

"I enjoyed my visit to Portsmouth very much and shall not soon forget the banquet of the Portsmouth Chamber of Commerce.

"I was greatly impressed by my visit and you may be assured that the Portsmouth Navy Yard will be given every consideration consistent with the public interests.

"With best wishes to you and your associates, I am

"Sincerely yours,

"CURTIS D. WILBUR."

NEWS OF THE NAVY AND NAVY YARDS

Fine Entertainment

Another delightful evening of entertainment was provided for the enlisted men of the navy yard Wednesday evening, for in addition to the big moving picture features several acts of vaudeville were provided.

The Bay State Trio of Amesbury were the attraction, and also two musical numbers. The trio consisted of Lawrence Levin, tenor soloist; J. P. Moran, bass; W. H. Murphy, alto. They rendered all the latest popular numbers in a most pleasing manner and the boys in the service were so generous with applause that encores caused the program to run over half an hour extra.

Godfrey Torey, the boy soprano who entertains at many of the beach hotels proved a big addition to the program and his imitations of famous stage characters was indeed remarkable.

Piano solos and accompaniments were rendered by Albert Bertrand. These weekly vaudeville numbers are greatly appreciated by the large number of enlisted men now in the yard, and Chaplain Pearce will continue them all season.

Not Much Bowling

The yard bowling alleys appear to be deserted at present and only a few fans are seen at the sport these days.

To Guard Aviators

The light cruiser Richmond has left Newport to guard the home bound American flyers on their voyage through the Arctic.

Before leaving on his 7000-mile trip as commander of the cruisers and destroyers which will convoy home the intrepid aviators, Rear Admiral Macgruder received a wireless report announcing the arrival of the cruiser Milwaukee at Halifax.

The Milwaukee's work is laying down mooring buoys to guide the flyers when they descend at Pictou, N. S.; Hawk Bay, Newfoundland; Cartwright Harbor and Indian Harbor, Labrador.

The Richmond is equipped with all sorts of emergency supplies for the aviators. She also carries the latest moving picture films so that the men aboard may have regular amusement while standing watch over the flyers. When the Richmond puts into Arctic ports, the natives will be invited to attend the ship's theatre for a look at the films—the first that many of them will ever have seen.

Six Days Leave

Capt. C. T. Owens, Capt of the yard, is on six days leave of absence in Rhode Island.

On New Tennis Court

One of the tennis courts put in by the prisoners at the submarine quarters was used for the first time today.

Planing News

The announcement today that construction of the first mine laying submarine would go to the local yard was a bit of planing news to the employes in all departments and as a result of the past work in this line accomplished by the officers and workmen at the station.

Call for Nine

Nine laborers for the laborers and riggers crew were called today.

Chance for Apprentice

The Board of Labor Employment announces that one apprentice boilermaker is required for that trade. Boys must be between the ages of 16 and 19.

Back From Trip

George Heeney, chief of the yard fire department, has returned from a visit of three weeks in Northport, Me.

May Not Go Till Fall

With the rush of work on submarines, it is doubtful if the local yard can give much attention to the U. S. S. Huntington at present and the cruiser may not be ready for her trip to Philadelphia before fall.

HOLD SOCIAL AT COUNTRY CLUB

The second in the series of socials being conducted by the Portsmouth Country Club was held at the club house yesterday. In the afternoon bridge and mah jong were enjoyed by the ladies. Mrs. I. A. Nevins received the favor in bridge and her daughter Betty in mah jong. A delightful supper of salads and cold meats was served in the club house at 6 o'clock. Dancing completed the well arranged program and upwards of 200 people enjoyed it until a late hour. "Doc" Gunliffe's popular orchestra furnished music for the dancing. The committee in charge of the social consisted of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Peabody, Dr. and Mrs. C. D. Carr, Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Trottier, Miss Vivian Goldsmith, Miss Elaine Trottier and Miss Lucille Sampson.

OBSEQUIES

Mrs. Emma B. Wendell

The last sad rites over the remains of Mrs. Emma B. Wendell were held at the Middle Street Baptist chapel on State street on Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. Among those in attendance were delegations from Fannie A. Gardiner Rebekah lodge and Union Rebekah lodge, Storer Relief Corps and the W. C. T. U. and past officers of the Rebekah Assembly.

Rev. E. W. Lake, D. D., pastor of the Middle Street Baptist church, conducted the service and paid a well deserved tribute to the deceased. He referred to her devotion to her church, the constant attendance at services and her activities in church organizations. In fulfillment of her own request some time before her death Mrs. Wendell was buried from the Middle Street Baptist chapel, where for many years she attended prayer meetings and taught Sunday school. Mrs Mary Whittier Priest sang "Rock of Ages" and "Sometime We'll Understand."

The floral tributes were beautiful and in profusion. Included among the many set pieces were tributes from Fannie A. Gardiner Rebekah lodge, Storer Relief Corps, Past Presidents' Rebekah Assembly Association and the Friendship Club.

The bearers were George Ham, Irving Annable, Nathan Amee and Stanton Trueman. Interment was in the family lot in Proprietors' cemetery under the direction of J. Verne Wood.

A QUICK ADOPTION

A large touring car sailed on Lafayette road, near Middle street, Wednesday afternoon carrying as passengers about seven children. After some talk with the children the driver took from them two kittens and threw them into the grass alongside of the road and drove off. They were not doomed for a tramp's life long, however, for two youngsters, who undoubtedly had been watching the proceedings, ran up the road after them. The kittens became bewildered and were nearly run over by an electric car. They scampered into a field nearby with the boys in hot pursuit. The boys surrounded and captured them and each carried home a pet. The kittens were lucky to find new homes in so short a time after being abandoned on the busy highway.

CONFERS WITH CANDIDATE DAVIS

(By Associated Press)

Dark Harbor, Islesboro, Me., July 24—Optimistic reports on the political outlook in Maine were brought here today by William R. Pattangall, democratic candidate for governor of this state, who had an engagement to confer during the day with John W. Davis democratic candidate for president. The political conference today was the second the democratic nominee had arranged since his arrival here last Saturday. His first was with Homer S. Cummings, national committeeman from Connecticut, who gave gratifying reports to Mr. Davis on the prospects in Connecticut, New Hampshire and other sections of New England. Mr. Cummings expressed the belief that the appearance in these states of Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York as a campaigner in behalf of the national ticket would be decidedly helpful.

THE HERALD HEARS

That the outlook for Portsmouth navy yard is rosy at present.

That the construction of the mine laying submarine V-4 is some price from the Navy Department.

That submarine work at Portsmouth yard will not be complete until the yard is equipped to build submarine engines as well as the hull.

That the garbage can isn't the only catch-all. There's the living room table.

That the state took in $70,569.33 on the gasoline tax for the month of June.

That this is $20,000 more than was received for May.

That it is expected that the receipts for July will reach $80,000.

That the public works would make a great improvement in the coming of the bay crop on the sides of the highway on Junkins avenue.

That there was a rush among the primary candidates at City Hall on Wednesday.

That the Republicans say they are going to hand something to the Democrats in Ward 2.

That some of the veteran firemen's superstitions looked for the Worcester Mass. muster on Saturday are "looking."

That the Worcester committee wants them all to hand their handrails by hand over the parade route.

That several companies say they will never substitute hand power for horses and tramp the streets of Worcester dragging the machine behind them.

That the workmen on the Memorial bridge have finished greasing the cables.

That this generation can drive automobiles, fly airplanes, talk by radio and do many other things, but it is not quite so sure that it knows how to bring up children.

That Dover has issued bids for the painting of the interior of the City Hall which close at 5 p. m. on Aug. 1.

That the Temple of Israel have planned for a big outing on Sunday.

That the B. & M. has the axe pretty well sharpened and it is doing a lot of execution.

That the man who says he doesn't believe in organized charity, usually means he believes in keeping his nickels.

That the odor from some of the sewer traps about the city would remind one that they were not in the midst of any peach orchard.

That Hampton Beach Board of Trade is going to do things for the New Hampshire State Firemen's Association while the convention is on at that resort.

That it's a hard world, and when you haven't time to shave you always meet a man you wish to impress.

That you can say it with brakes at the grade crossings and save the flowers.

That the man who is looking for reduction in the price of coal will not hear of it in 1924, that's a sure bet.

That the state chemist says Portsmouth has fine water. Wonder what an analysis of some of the hooch would show?

That a session of the probate court was held here on Wednesday.

That Law Enforcement Officer Craig says New England states are flooded with a fake product of Gordon's gin.

That he don't say what means he took to come to the conclusion that the product is bum stuff.

That the South Mill pond is going strong on the odor these warm nights with the tide out.

CLAIM HEARING HELD ILLEGALLY

(By Associated Press)

Washington, July 24—The treasury is making rapid progress in remitting overpayment on taxes resulting from the 25 per cent reduction granted by congress on the years payments. About one-third of the total of $15,000,000 has already been returned to the tax payers during June. Figures show today that checks aggregating more than $5,000,000 had been mailed or are ready for mailing.

VICTORY FOR FARRAGUT NINE

The Farragut Home baseball team of Rye Beach crossed up the leader with the Marshall Home yesterday afternoon, defeating the latter team at York Harbor by a score of 5 to 1. Brown pitched air tight ball for the Farragut team while Harwood, who relieved Matherson in the ninth, did nothings. The score:

Farragut	2 1 1 0 1 0 0 0 0—5

Batteries—Farragut, Brown and Mason. Marshall, Matherson, Harwood and Glover.

PRISONERS ESCAPE AT STRAFFORD JAIL

Attack Jailer's Son and Overpower the Guard--All Recaptured Within Few Hours

Dover, July 24—A carefully planned escape proved successful yesterday when four prisoners at the Strafford county jail made a sensational break for liberty by beating the son of the jailer, overpowering a guard and making their getaway.

Two of the runaways were captured shortly after the break, but the other two were not landed until late in the afternoon. One of those who almost succeeded in making good his escape secured a change of clothes by entering a farmhouse in Barrington and stealing a suit.

Among those who attempted to break their moorings was the notorious "Chick" Dillon of Boston, man of many aliases, wanted in several states and held here for the past month in $4000 bail on the charge of attempting to sell an automobile alleged to have been stolen.

The prisoners had carefully planned their break, for they waited until the working inmates had been taken to the farm, under the charge of the turnkey, when Dillon called for a mop with which to clean his cell. Unsuspectingly Jailer Ham, whose son was in the vicinity, sent him with the mop to Dillon's cell. When young Ham appeared, however, he was set upon by Dillon and three companions, James Twombly, Kenneth Harriman and James Brown, who beat him up rather severely. They then overpowered the guard who was dispensing tools to the prisoners who work on the farm.

Young Ham quickly recovered from his beating, however, and spread the alarm. Several guards about the grounds immediately gave chase and it was not long before Dillon and Twombly were captured but a short distance from the jail after a chase of about half a mile.

Dillon was nearly exhausted and was lying in some bushes when Deputy Sheriff and Jailer Edgar J Ham and another guard came upon him. He offered no resistance and was taken into custody. Twombly was also picked up nearby and taken back to jail.

As soon as the break became known Jailer Ham bent his efforts to capture Dillon, who is the most wanted and dangerous prisoner at the jail. After the Strafford county authorities get through with him, he will be taken on a capias to Fall River, where he is wanted in connection with passing an alleged forged check.

Dillon was arrested here June 5 under the name of Robert J. Harris. He claimed he came from Manchester, but his identity was made as Dillon, the much-wanted Massachusetts man. In Fall River he posed as James H. Burke and has in the past served time in Cambridge.

Kenneth Harriman and James Brown, both of many aliases, who come from Maine, were not captured until late yesterday afternoon, when Sheriff Scruton and Deputy Sheriff Callaghan made the arrests. Brown was wearing the clothes he had stolen from a farm house, while Harriman was located in the town of Madbury.

JEWISH PEOPLE TO HOLD ANNUAL OUTING SUNDAY

Big Gathering Panned for the Day at Old Trotting Park

The annual outing of the Temple of Israel will be held on Sunday on the grounds of the former Rockingham Trotting Park. This event is looked forward to by the Jewish residents of Portsmouth with great interest and has always brought together most everyone of that faith for the day. A committee has had the program in hand for several days and the outing of the summer of 1924 is expected to be the largest and most enjoyable of any so far held by the Temple. They are to leave the synagogue about 8 a. m. in automobiles.

B. & M. LAYING OFF MORE TRAINMEN

Portland Division Hit Hard on Account of Slack Business

The Boston & Maine economy move appears to be hitting the Portland division hard and the end is not at present in sight. On Wednesday five more trainmen jobs were abolished.

A short time ago 25 young brakemen in the freight service, who had been promoted to the passenger service for the summer, were sent back to freight work. A number of them are now out of employment, due to the small amount of freight moving on this division. Immediately after this change 27 brakemen in the passenger service were laid off because of slack business in the passenger department.

In all 31 passenger breaking jobs have been abolished since the men were granted their increase of five percent in wages and the new working rules went into effect. The old men in the service got the increase and the young men lost their jobs.

Next Monday five additional trains will be taken off and other changes will go into effect, which will put more trainmen out of employment.

On the Saugus branch, in two instances, whole crews have lost their places through the economy regime. Unless business picks up for the railroads in the fall there will be a large number without employment. Most of them have never done any other kind of work.

Conditions are even more serious in the freight service.

Numerous jobs in the station service have been abolished, and in some instances stations are closed, with no employes attending them. Every employe whose services can be spared, without weakening the safety-first policy of the road, is being laid off.

GLOUCESTER COWS ARE NOT ALONE ON THIS KIND OF FEED

London.—Fish meal that can be used for cattle food is one of the surprising by-products of the great fisheries industries that center at Grimsby. As in all canning and packing centers, there accumulate great quantities of discarded fish. These are sent to garbage reduction plants that extract oil, glue, isinglass and fertilizer and convert the better class of scrap into a fine fish meal. This is used for chicken food, and it has also been discovered that cattle will relish and thrive on a certain proportion of this meal mixed with their other feed.

It is believed that this is the only case so far on record of cattle becoming carnivorous.

MOVE FOR TRIPLE RAILROAD MERGER

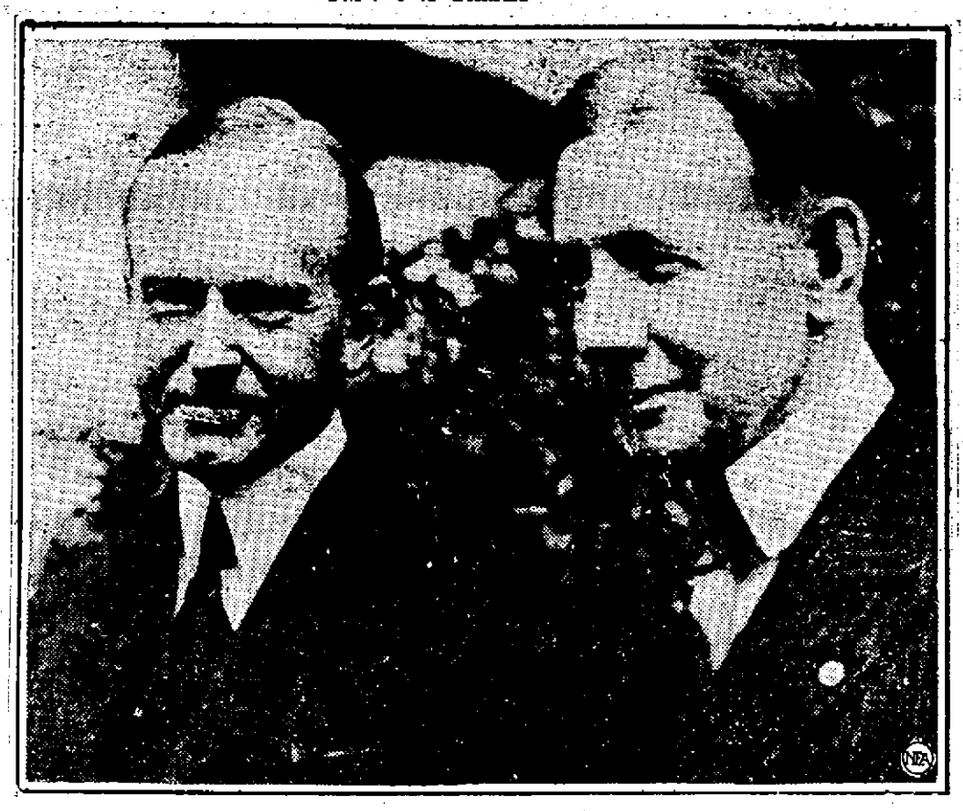

New York, July 23.—Plans for the consolidation of the Erie and Pere Marquette railroads with the "Nickel Plate" and other Van Sweringen properties began to take definite form when O. P. Van Sweringen and J. J. Bernet, chairman of the board of directors and president, respectively, of the "Nickel Plate" road, outlined a proposed merger of the properties, through an exchange of stock, to Chairman E. N. Brown and President Frank H. Alfred of the Pere Marquette at a conference in the latters' offices.

Mr. Brown said after the meeting that Mr. Van Sweringen had informed him that he had obtained control of "something over 100,000 of the 650,000 shares of outstanding Pere Marquette common stock, and that he would mail him a definte proposal wihtin the next few days. Mr. Van Sweringen declined to comment on the day's proceedings, adding that there was nothing that could be said at this time.

While the details of the conference were withheld, it is reported that the plan will involve the formation of a new corporation whose shares would be exchanged on a share for share basis with "Nickel Plate" and a one-for-two basis wiht Pere Marquette. Interested officials pointed out, however, that any suggestion of terms at this time was a matter of guesswork "Nickel Plate" common stock recently touched par and closed on the New York exchange today at 99½. Pere Marquette common stock established a new high for the year today at 54, closing slightly below that figure.

It is understood that the purpose of the meeting was to procure the cooperation of the Pere Marquette directors before presenting the proposal to that road's stockholders.

THREATENS BOYCOTT ON SHOE FIRM

Binghamton, N. Y.—George F. Johnson, millionaire shoe manufacturer, have received a letter from the Ku Klux Klan threatening to crush the Endicott-Johnson shoe corporation within one year if he carries out his assertion that he will discharge from his employ anyone found connected with the Ku Klux Klan.

The letter, signed "One Hundred Per Cent American," says the matter was discussed at the recent Ku Klux Klan convention in this city and it was said that in one year the firm could be crushed if the klan refuses to buy its goods.

Mr. Johnson, in a recent letter to his employes, said:

"We have also the 'American' very much with us lately. This American is a queer cuss. He shouts 'America for Americans!' Perchance, if his grandparents and parents were born in America, then he is all American, and he spends the bulk of his time trying to prove his Americanism by the use of his mouth. He is the fellow who talks of 'wops' and frequently makes a good deal of a damn fool of himself."

WHALE CHASES FISHERMEN

A whale basking in the sun eight miles off Eastern Point, was attracted by a group of fishermen who threw out a mess of herring bait at the end of their day's sport. A race followed between the whale and a group of gulls. Although the gulls reached the spot first and devoured the bait, the whale circled about a small motor boat several times at such a close range that it endangered the lives of James Lyons and William McKenzie. They pulled up anchor as fast as possible and headed towards shore with the whale still following in hope of another mess of fish being cast over to furnish him a meal. It was not till they neared shore that the monster gave up the chase and went back to his sun bath in deeper water.

OH-YOU-BO

The story came to us that Bo of base drum fame was telling one of those husky corn feders from Seabrook Beach about the inimitable roof garden dances in Portsmouth and got real peeved when she made no reply. Bo gave her one good long once over then asked her if she was all alone in the world. Just then a friend tipped the genial Bo that the lady was deaf. Three steps and Bo was back again in Portsmouth.

CHILD WELFARE MADE PUBLIC DUTY IN SWEDEN

Stockholm.—Compulsory removal of wayward or depraved children from their homes into public custody and subsequent supervision up to the age of 18, is provided for in a new law for the care of children which has just been passed by the Riksdag. The law further provides for public care of children who are found to be exposed to undesirable influences and in danger of becoming depraved.

Children removed from their homes by government inspectors and matrons in compliance with this law are placed in government institutions, or in good private homes in the country, where they receive expert training and can grow up in healthful surroundings. Social service of a similar sort has been carried on in the cities of Sweden, especially Stockholm, for many years by municipal and state boards, who place the children in desirable homes far out in the country, and pay an annual compensation to these homes. In many cases a strong bond of affection grows up between these waifs of the slums and their foster parents, which culminates in legal adoption.

Under the new law every city and parish will have a special board for the care of children, including local pastors and teachers as permanent members, while inspectors will travel all over the country for the purpose of observing and controlling individual development. Thousands of country homes receive the poor children of the city as guests during the summer and send them back to their homes with cheeks round and rosy.

Nation-wide and energetic philanthropic work is also carried on by the Swedish society "Save the Children" the campaign culminating in an annual Children's Day, when large sums are raised in order to provide summer vacations in children's colonies by the seaside, and in some cases on islands specially reserved.

Goodbye Forever Hair On Face

Remarkable New Way to Remove Superfluous Hair—Roots and All!

Embarrassing hair on the face, the arms and legs is now unnecessary. It can be removed almost instantly. No odor, no fuss, no bother, small expense. A simple, quick, marvelous method that lifts out the hair, leaving the skin white, healthy and soft as velvet.

The new discovery is known as Karma. It is a combination of rare vegetable balsams and Oriental extracts. When you apply it, it penetrates to the hair rooths loosens them—and lifts out the hair. The balsams in this remarkable Karma make the process absolutely harmless.

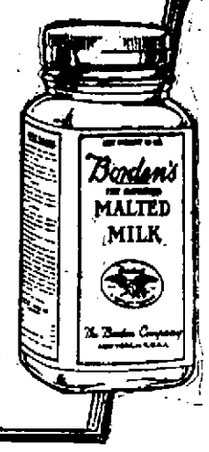

Karma is not an ordinary depilatory. It is based on proved scientific principles and is recommended by prominent beauty specialists. Karma is sold on a guarantee of absolute satisfaction by Boardman & Norton, Fred B. Coleman, Benj. Green, G. E. Philbrick.

BOSTON WANTS WORLD'S FAIR

Boston, July 21.—Plans for the celebration of Boston's 300th anniversary in 1930 were publicly discused in the City Council rooms at a meeting of the preliminary survey committee on the plans for the Boston tercentenary appointed by Mayor Curley in March. The meeting was opened by Frank Chouteau Brown, chairman of the committee, who read a communication from the mayor, which pointed out that the present committee was only temporary, its purpose being not to decide on any proposals but to gather information which is to be presented finally to the permanent committee to be appointed later.

Van Ness Bates, representing the Metropolitan Improvement Association one of the organizations receiving an invitation to offer proposals to the committee, presented a plan for a world fair or exposition which he thought would be a suitable way of celebrating the anniversary.

In his plan, he suggested as a site for a world fair, a 2000-acre tract of land around the strandway, Columbia road and Cow Pasture, South Boston. His project included the development of Boston Harbor, which he said would be for the good of the city and would also net the city considerable money as the developed land would be sold at a large profit. The large scale of his plan, he said, would necessitate the extension of the celebration to the state and he recommeuned that the outlying cities planning celebrations at this time combine with Boston, distributing the expense.

As a part of preparations for the celebration, he proposed the building of a large statue overlooking Boston Harbor. This statue, he said, should embody a huge figure with outstretched arms welcoming immigrants to Boston and passing a benediction on all who went beneath it.

Charles A. Ufford, vice president of the Dorchester Historical Society, presented plans for a separate Dorchester celebration, but later expressed his concurrence with the idea of Mr. Bates for a combined celebration of a larger sort. Other suggestions of a similar nature were offered by William Ryan, Michael A. O'Brien and Miss Virginia Tanner, all of Dorchester.

INDIANS TO VOTE UNDER NEW ACT

Washington, July 22—Provided the various states that embrace their reservations will set up the necessary machinery, thousands of Indians will become voters in the coming elections as a result of the Citizenship Act passed at the recent session of Congress.

With the passage of the law every native-born Indian in the United States automatically became a citizen. Commissioner Burke recently estimating the number at approximately 125,000. At least one-fourth of this number, it is calculated, are adults and therefore entitled to vote except in the state where the election laws fix certain qualifications, such as educational, property ownership or payment of poll taxes, that the new Indian citizens may not be able to meet.

However, this condition is believed by authorities on the subject to be only a minor hindrance to the newly enfranchised Indians going to the polls, the chief obstacle mentioned being the lack of organized machinery. Most of the Indians, it is pointed out, live on closed reservations located in unorganized counties, where there are no officials to provide the necessary ballots, polling places and other election facilities.

Not only the Indians in the particular circumstances described, are prevented from casting their votes, but even white citizens living on the reservations have no such opportunity.

In one or two states, however, this condition is said to have been remedied by counties bordering on Indian reservations permitting the citizens in unorganized jurisdictions to cast their ballots in the adjoining counties.

More than 200,000 Indians had been made citizens before the passage of the new Citizenship act, and a large percentage of these are said to be placed in the similar position of not being able to vote, solely because the facilities enabling them to exercise this right are not available.

COOLIDGE'S FATHER AT WASHINGTON

Washington.—Col. John C. Coolidge, father of President Coolidge, who is visiting the White House for the first time, is leading a very simple life here. At 79 he is strong and healthy, and has more color in his face than his distinguished son has.

"You will find Col. Coolidge a very quiet man," said one of his acquaintances. "He never did talk very much, but now, since his son became President, he says less."

President Coolidge is a man of few words. His stern, calm mien creates the impression he is devoid of humor, but those who know him intimately assert that is not so. The elder Coolidge is even sterner looking than the President, but his intimates describe him as friendly, even jovial, and full of the "milk of human kindness."

Although Col. Coolidge has been at the White House more than a week, very few of the employees and frequenters of the mansion have ever seen him. He passes most of his time there and not in the offices of the President. Several days ago he went with Frank W. Stearns, friend of the President, to the open space in front of the Executive office to have his photograph taken. He was induced to do that by Mr. Stearns. After the camera snapped he turned to the photographer and said:

"If they are good, send me one; but if bad throw them away."

Newspapermen tried then to get him to talk for an interview, but he confined his remarks to "yes" and "no."

Col. Coolidge is a little larger edition of the President and huskier. He is taller by a fraction of an inch and has a larger frame. His close touch with the soil has kept him in good health.

The President, his son John and Col. Coolidge stood for a group picture showing the three generations. This took place in the rear of the White House, out of sight of all except the cameramen admitted for the occasion. It required strenuous efforts and eloquent pleas to get the consent of the Coolidges for this picture. The photographer who got a picture several days ago "scooped" his rivals and the President consented to give all a show today.

Col. Coolidge came to Washington to see President Harding inaugurated. He remained here then with his son, who was Vice President, several days. He never came back until now, when he accompanied the family home from Plymouth, where Calvin Jr. was buried.

The President tried to persuade him to visit him several months ago but he declined, saying he was too busy with the farm work. Last month Republican leaders invited him to the convention at Cleveland, but he could not accept on account of the demand on his time at home.

Virginia show places have proved very attractive to Col. Coolidge. C. Bascom Slemp, private secretary to the President, took him to Mount Vernon, Pohick Church, Alexandria and other places made famous by George Washington. On these trips he signed the register kept for visitors and manfested keen interest in all the historic points in the Old Dominion.

Last week he went down the Potomac with the President and Mrs. Coolidge and young John Coolidge on the Mayflower.

Barring these trips, he has remained pretty close to the White House. The President took him to the Naval Dispensary and had his eyes examined, and to Walter Reed Hospital for a thorough going-over. He now has new reading glasses and a certificate of good health.

During the morning Col. Coolidge sticks to the executive mansion with Mrs. Calvin Coolidge and his grandson and reads the newspapers to keep up with the political news of the day. Late in the afternoon, when the President has cleaned his desk, he drops in on him for a few minutes.

Persons close to the President's father assert he does a great deal of clear, clean New England thinking, but it is a difficult task to get him to talk much. He was on the staff of one of the Governors of his state and has held other public office. Being industrious and thrifty, he has always had plenty of money to make himself and his family comfortable. He is not a college-bred man, but has a good education and lots of old-time American commonsense and character.

Despite his age he walks boldly erect. Asked for an interview, he said he did not care to talk for the press.

General Averescu, former leader of the Rumanian ministry, is reported leading a revolt against the king.

SICK WOMAN MADE HAPPY

Entirely Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Mart, Texas.—"I have taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to build me up as I was all run-down, nervous and sick. I ached and hurt all over so that I was often compelled to go to bed, and I had to have most of my work done. No medicine seemed to help me until one of my neighbors who was taking the Vegetable Compound insisted on me trying a bottle of it. The medicine helped me from the first, and the best of all is that I can even sew again without that awful, nervous feeling I was used to having. And I used to take crying spells, with such a blue feeling that I cannot explain. Now all that has left me. I feel so cheerful, and I have gained in weight, sleep well and eat hearty. Oh! I wish I had words to express what this medicine has done for me! I am a housekeeper and do everything from the sewing to the washing now and it doesn't hurt me. You may use my letter in any way you wish. I will be glad to help any suffering woman to the road of health and happiness."—Mrs. B. F. Brannon, 404 Travis Ave., Mart, Texas.

LYNN LASTERS MAY ISSUE A STRIKE CALL

Unless the shoe manufacturers of Lynn reach a new working agreement with the so-called "outlay" Lasters' Union, within the next few days it is possible that a strike call may be issued. A preliminary meeting will be held today for the purpose of outlining terms that will be acceptable to both interests.

Campaign by the York Local Committee Opens—Chairman of Nat. Committe Secured as Speaker

Mrs. W. L. Lawton of Glen Falls, N. Y., chairman of the National Committee for the Restriction of Outdoor Advertising, will speak on this subject in the historic First Congregational church, York Village, July 31, at 4 o'clock. Much interest is being manifested in this movement and it is expected that the church will be filled and that this will be one of the biggest events of the season. Mrs. Lawton has just returned from California, speaking en route all across the continent. She speaks early in August at Lenox and vicinity, and York is indeed fortunate to be able to secure her services.

This campaign is sponsored by the Woman's League of York; the local committee having it in charge are: Mrs. John C. Breckenridge, Mrs. George N. Baker, Mrs. E. C. Cook, Miss Helen Cadwalader, Mrs. Harry Hungerford, Mrs. Ralph W. Hawkes, Mrs. Merle F. Hunt, Mrs. H. C. Matthews, Miss Florence A. Paul, Mrs. Joseph W. Simpson, Mrs. Willard J. Simpson and Mrs. John J. Sullivan. There will be music in addition to the address and tea will be served in the parish house or, if pleasant, on the beautiful grounds around the church. Invitations are being sent out to all the members of the summer colony and to all of the people whose privilege it is to live in York the year round.

It is expected that there will be guests from the City Club of Portsmouth and from the City Club of Portland, Me.

Chats with your GAS man

IT IS quite the popular thing in Washington these days for the President to invite several of his friends to breakfast. Anyone familiar with the up-to-date gas equipment in the White House kitchen knows that the Presidential breakfasts inflict very litll eadditional labor on the chef and his helpers.

Before gas cooking came into use, it is not recorded that a President invited his friends to breakfast. And the same thing was true of the average citizen. The easiest way to causea walk-out in the kitchens in those coal-and-wood stove days was to burden the domestic help with a heavy breakfast order.

But gas service has changed all that. Among other things it has made quick meals possible with a minimum of labor. Otherwise there would be few if any so-called "breakfast conferences."

TRACING SOURCE OF DIVINE AUTHORITY

The real source of Divine authority as it speaks in the lives of men today is at the heart of the lectures and addresses of the week at the conference at the Isles of Shoals. The thought came out in a chapel service when Rev. Lyman V. Rutledge spoke briefly on the eternal rectitude which always exists in the soul to influence and guide men. The subject will appear in the course to be given by Rev. Charles R. Joy and in the lectures by H. Addington Bruce on "Psychology in Everyday Life," which opened Monday morning.

Mr. Bruce is doing a large work in translating the principles and theories of modern psychology into terms which make them available to the public mind. Some fourteen books have been published by him on the subjects of psychology and American history. Formerly he was a well-known staff contributor to The Outlook, the New York Tribune and other periodicals. Mr. Bruce believes that psychology is the most helpful of the sciences in solving social problems and in this belief is devoting his life to its study.

The introductory lecture was on "Psychology Past and Present." At the outset Mr. Bruce mentioned some of the mistaken ideas about psychology which have brought it into disrepute; that it was a substitute for religion, something occult, merely a matter of psychical research. The antiquity of the study of the phenomena of the mind, dating back to the Greeks who made of it more metaphysics than science, up to the recent changes which have come upon it were suggested and will be developed in later lectures of the week.

Mr. Bruce is to emphasize the social side of his subject because he realizes that the social situation at present is so bad, with all of the great social evils so alarmingly on the increase, including marriage failure, vice, crime, spicide, economic inefficiency, mental disease and all of the rest. Some believe, he said, that the trouble is with civilization itself and predict that it is fated to go the way of earlier civilizations, but he does not hold this view. The trouble, in his opinion, is that, with the changes in human environment wrought by science and invention, man has not been fitting himself to withstand the allurements of civilization.

Real psychology consists in the systematic study of the phenomena of the mind and is a very old science. The real starting point in the change from metaphysics to science may be fixed at the establishment, fifty years or so ago, of the first laboratory of experimental science in Leipzig, followed in the early eighties by the work of Janet in Paris in studying the mental attitudes of hysterical patients, and at about the same time by F. W. H. Myers in England with his attempts to establish contacts with the spiritual world. Mr. Myer's great contribution to the subject was undoubtedly his opening the field of the subconscious life and the influence it exerts. Mr. Bruce used several apt illustrations which made clear the existence of unsuspected knowledge treasured away in the sub-conscious mind.

Out of Janet's work, he asserted, has grown the medical psychology which is proving of such great value today and the abnormal psychology which is being endorsed by the penologists, criminalogists and sociologists who are finding that delinquency is not so much due to innate badness as to environment. Stress was laid by the speaker on modern clinical psychology which strives to correct the physical conditions which cause mental and moral delinquency if these conditions can be remedied. The condition of the teeth and the eyes is studied and other tests given. Whether malnutrition is the disturbing factor is determined and the person sent to appropriate specialists. Instances were cited of specific cases of so-called feeble-mindedness resulting from physical causes. Mr. Bruce emphasized the tremendous importance of the first years of a child's life in throwing about it the proper environment and directing the formation of modes of thought, in the light of his studies as a psychologist.

In the vicinity of one hundred psychological clinics are now maintained in this country and in some centres they are being attached to the schools as physicians and nurses have been, with results which have justified the movement in this direction.

Interesting references were made by Mr. Bruce to the department of genetic psychology, with its auxillary of child adolescent and senescent psychology based on the fact that the mind functions differently at different periods of life, and of comparative or animal psychology growing out of the increasing consciousness that mental phenomena are not confined to human beings.

Social psychology is a study especially important to those who need to influence the minds of others, teachers, preachers, politicians, social reformers. It recognizes the fact that mental phenomena vary according to age and mental contacts. Everyone is influenced, subconsciously more than consciously, by those among whom he lives. The social inheritance, Mr. Bruce was emphatic in asserting, is more potent than biological inheritance, and through it the thought of a people as well as of an individual may have its current changed. The organized teaching of the ideal of German nationalism to the simple, kindly, musical folk of the past with the World War as a result, and the change of Japan in the last century were cases in point. How to use this fact of a social inheritanse as potent in making the world more nearly what it should be is the problem of the day.

DAYLIGHT SAVING BOTHERS LOOKOUTS

Concord, July 24—In spite of the obvious advantage of offered help in operation by members of the Dartmouth Outing Club, the State Forestry department has decided against establishing a lookout station on Mount Moosilauke. The mountain is so high and so often cloud-capped that it does not offer a suitable site.

Inspection of Cube Mountain in Orford, with the idea of using it for lookout purposes, resulted in an unfavorable verdict. The view from the summit, it was reported, is not satisfactory.

The outcome probably will be retention of the station on Black Mountain in Benton.

Watchmen in the lookout stations are complaining that wardens who live in towns near the Massachusetts line are using daylight saving time in making reports of fires extinguished. The result is that the watchman is not infrequently accused of being an hour late in summoning the wardens, when he has been guilty of nothing worse than using Eastern standard time in making reports, against the daylight time employed by the wardens in tre southern part of the state. These wardens have been asked to give the watchmen proper credit in such cases.

TENNIS AND GOLF NOTES

The annual team match between the Portsmouth and Manchester country clubs will take place at the Portsmouth Country Club on August 9. There will be a return match in Manchester in September. The winner of the matches will get possession of the Peirce bowl.

The golf committee of the country Club is making arrangements for the coming club championship matches. The qualifying round will be held early next month.

Rear Admiral M. M. Taylor, commander of the Atlantic Coast Control Forces, whose flagship is the U. S. S. Savannah, is one of the most ardent golfers in the navy. He is a familiar figure on the golf courses in this vicinity, often playing at the Portsmouth Country Club, the Abenaqui Club at Rye and the York Country Club.

Two new tennis courts have been built near the submarine barracks at the Navy Yard. These courts are for the use of the enlisted men.

For the first time in the history of athletics around these parts there is a tennis professional teaching the game. Jack Small of the Union Boat Club is giving instruction and having general charge of the tennis courts at the York Country Club.

At one time there were sixteen tennis courts being used at the York club. During the war and for a time afterward, interest in the court game lagged and only eight courts were kept in commission. Now with the growing interest in the game these eight courts are in continual use.

Parker Whittemore of Boston, one of the best known amateur players, is shooting in low figures at the Abenaqui Club at Rye. Mr. Whittemore is the guest of George Crocker, the veteran golfer.

The tennis courts at the Playgrounds are being kept in excellent condition and are in demand at all hours of the day. There will be plenty of good competition in the city championship matches which the Playground supervisors are planning to run off before the season closes.

A. & P. EMPLOYES HOLD BIG OUTING

Southern New Hampshire Representatives Hosts at Gathering at Hampton Beach

A short time ago the southern New Hampshire territory and the Salem and Beverly, Mass., territory of the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. stores had a sales contest. In this contest the stores in the Salem-Beverly territory, which is in charge of George Mitchell, formerly of Portsmouth, were the winners and as a result of this victory they were the guests of the southern New Hampshire territory at an outing and banquet held at Hampton Beach yesterday afternoon. N. A. Jones of Rochester is in charge of the southern New Hampshire territory.

The A. & P. workers arrived at the beach early in the afternoon and the first event of the day was a ball game between the two districts. The game was very well played and was anybody's game until the last man was out. The southern New Hampshire men won, 3-2. McDonald, who played shortstop, scored two runs for the southern N. H. outfit and thereby took the gift for scoring the most runs. The teams lined up as follows: Southern N. H.—LaChance, p; McDonald , ss; McGoldrick, c; Barutio, 1b; Lamonde, 2b; McConnell, 3b; Berry, cf; Builette, lf; Cox, rf. Salem and Beverly—Reviz, ss; Desmerais, 3b; Hickey, 1b; Nelson,lf; Walfield, cf; Huntress, rf; Gloss, c; Mullen, 2b; Adams, p.

The ball game was followed by field sports. All the events were interesting and had a great many entries. In each event the first two men were placed and a suitable gift was awarded each man placed first and second in any event. The 50-yard dash was won by Rivetz and Hood came second. In the 100-yard dash the order was reversed. Hood took first and Rivetz second. In the standing broad jump Rivetz took first and LaChance second. The hop-step-and jump found Rivetz leading the field with LaChance a close second.

A keen rivalry existed between Rivetz and LaChance and in several of the events they were s close that a special session had to be instituted for them. In the play-off Rivetz managed to nose out LaChance each time by a very narrow margin.

The last event on the sport program was a tug-o'-war. In this event each district had ten men on the rope. The southern N. H. men proved themselves to be the strongest. They did not let an inch go to their opponents and inside of three minutes from the start had the anchor man of the opposing team even with the center mark of the starting point. The southern N. H. team consisted of Barutio, anchor man; Murray, Emmons, Maher, La Chance, Henderson, Cox, McConnell, Guilmette, McDonald. The Salem and Beverly team was made up of La Plante, anchorman; Hood, Adams, Desmerais, Nelson, Hickey , Graves, Huntress, Hackett and Gloss.

The events of the day being over the party adjourned to the Ashworth Hotel where a sumptuous feast was set before them. The southern New Hampshire people proved themselves not only to be good losers when it comes to sales contests, but also proved themselves to be excellent hosts. The banquet arranged was such as would delight the most exacting. The committee of arrangements had a little surprise in store for their guests. An entertainment had been arranged and the youthful singers, Thomas Fullam and Finbar Cochran, put on several of their acts. These youngsters, who are both fine singers, made a great hit with the party and were called upon for many encores Their "Gallagher and Shean" act proved to be a real hit. They also rendered "It Ain't Goin' to Rain No Mo' " in such a way as to bring forth bursts of applause and calls for more. The young actors were accompanied at the piano by Miss Betty Fullam.

M. A. Jones of Rochester was toastmaster at the banquet. He called on Supt. W. S. Walker of Haverhill and M. Clayton of Portland, who gave brief but interesting talks on various things of interest to those assembled. Mr. Jones awarded the gifts to those who had triumphed in the athletic events.

The Salem and Beverly men are strong for more sales contests. They figure that if they can't trim the southern N. H. men at baseball and tug-o'-war they have a good chance to win at selling and they are sure now that the southern N. H. men know how to entertain.

The outing was a complete success. There was not a dull moment during the whole affair and evety man enjoyed himself to the fullest extent. A great deal of credit is due the committee on arrangements for the success of the affair. The next one that is held from the men from southern N. H. claim will be on the Salem and Beverly crowd. That remains to be seen and this affair will only serve to make the Salem and Beverly boys work harder. The committee in charge consisted of M. A. Jones of Rochester, chairman; A. J. Barrett, of Portsmouth, Ralph McDermott of Kittery and William Henderson of Rochester.

PLANNING NAVY AND MARINE MEMORIAL

Plans are progressing rapidly for the new Navy and Marine Memorial that will be built on a beautiful site on the Potomac River at Washington, D. C. by the people of the United States in honor of the men of the sea, of all ages who have made the supreme sacrifice as well as to those who were not called upon to make that sacrifice but who have served their country on the sea. This monument is not to commemorate any particular war or any particular period of the nations maritime history, but will depict many great incidents of discovery and other events of the sea in all ages. The Coast Guard will also have a place on this great monument of the seas.

The monument is being planned by Harvey Wiley Corbett, president of the Architectural League of New York Its main part will consist of a crest of a wave of statuary bronze, 26 feet wide, 32 feet long and 32 feet high, over which will hover seven sea gulls, will be mounted on a bronze pedestal with a finishing seat in polished sea green granite. Leading to the wave will be a series of steps and platforms, the extreme proportions of which will be 190 feet deep by 156 feet wide. On the platform there will be bronze reliefs depicting the various events that the monument is to commemorate. Suitably embodied in the structure will be the insignia of every state in the Union.

This monument which should appeal particularly to Portsmouth people, will cost approximately $500,000. Since 1623 Portsmouth has been a real maritime city. The first ship and the first men to ever sail under the Stars and Stripes sailed out of Portsmouth harbor with John Paul Jones on the good ship Ranger. This modest beginning of the Navy is all bound up in Portsmouth and Portsmouth in it. For this reason and a score of others just as good Portsmouth should have a great interest in this monument that is being erected to the men of the sea.

Miss Mabel R. Beardsley who is working organizing state and city committees to help in raising the funds for the monument will be in Portsmouth until Saturday. She is at the Hotel Rockingham and is willing and anxious to inform people about the project and to answer any questions anyone may wish to ask. The committee in Massachusetts headed by Gov. Cox is already organized and working on the project. New Hampshire is not organized as yet but it is hoped that it will be in the near future. The campaign in New England will last about six weeks. Four donations of $5000. each have been received and donations from Cardinal Hayes of New York and Cardinal O'Connell of Boston have been received. No money is accepted by solicitors, all donations are made payable to the Bankers Trust Company, 16 Wall St., New York, N. Y.

The following are the committees in charge of the building of the memorial:

Honorary National Committee—Hon. Curtis D. Wilbur, Secretary of the Navy, Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, Admiral Edward W. Eberle, Admiral Robert E. Coontz, Hon. Leigh Palmer, Major-General John A. Lejeune, Rear Admiral F. C. Billard, Hon. T. V. O'Connor, Rear Admiral William S. Benson.

B. & M. CAN NOW CLOSE OLD ORCHARD BRANCH

Permission Granted by Interstate Commerce Commission

The Boston & Maine railroad has been given authority by the interstate commerce commission at Washington to close the Old Orchard branch known as the "Dummy" line of four miles running between Old Orchard and Camp Ellis. This matter has been in the air for some time and this final decision waited by the Old Orchard Transportation Company who will seek a permit from the Maine Utilities Commission to carry on transportation business between these points.

ASKS AID IN LOCATING MAN

Sanford, Me., July 24.—Sheriff Haven A. Roberts has appealed to the newspapers to assist him in locating Alfred Guay, missing from his home here for several weeks. Sheriff Roberts holds a warrant for Guay's arrest on a charge of desertion and non support.

Guay left his wife and six children here. The officers and Mrs. Guay believe that he has run away with a woman.

At the time of his disappearance Guay was employed as an automobile salesman for Arthur Baker. Previous to that time he was employed in various meat markets in Sanford and Springvale.

Sheriff Roberts wishes any one having information concerning Guay's whereabouts to get in touch with him at once in Sanford.

WILL HOLD BIG SHRINE MEETING

Local Shriners are much interested in the ceremonial to be held under the auspices of Bektash Temple at the call of Imperial Potentate of North America, Joseph G. Chandler of Kansas City, Mo. It has been decided to hold this meeting in Dover on Thursday and Friday, Sept. 4 and 5 and it is expected that 2000 Shriners and their ladies will be present.

There will be a meeting of Shriners from Portsmouth, Dover, Rochester and Somersworth at the City Opera House in Dover next Saturday evening at 7.30 o'clock for the purpose of making the preliminary arrangements for the coming ceremonial. Arthur J. Boutwell of Concord, potentate of Bektash Temple, with others from Concord and Manchester will be present and a light lunch will be served.

WENTWORTH HOME GARDEN PARTY IS DECIDED SUCCESS

Wentworth Home for Chronic Invalids

Throngs in Attendance at Brilliant Affair ---Concert by Naval Band and Artistic Dances Feature of Entertainment Program

Ideal weather conditions, attractive decorations, throngs in attendance and generous patronage marked the annual garden party at the Wentworth Home for Invalids on Pleasant street on Wednesday from 2.30 to 7 p. m. and the affair proved a social and financial success. Over $500 will probably be cleared from the event.

Few prettier places could be found for a garden party. The spacious grounds of the Colonial home with all the natural beauty and elegance of an old-fashioned garden which runs back to the water made a perfec t setting for an outdoor social affair. With the decorations of American flags, flowers and crepe paper, the light summer gowns of the attendants and guests present made a colorful picture and one ever-changing as the patrons moved to and fro among the different tables or sat under the shade of the stately trees which beautified the grounds.

From the opening hour of the party to its close the same interest was shown and it seemed as if everyone came with the intent of patronizing the tables and helping to raise funds for the proposed annex of the institution which is so badly needed. Local merchants aided the committee by contributions for the tables. Mrs. Samuel Dodge volunteered to sell admission tickets and worked untiringly to that end and returned $182.95 to the cashier for her work, having sold 1205 tickets and received 2.20 extra in cash. Her efforts were greatly appreciated.

A most enjoyable program, in charge of Miss Emily I. Bracelin, was given at intervals and there was not a dull moment and the meeting and greeting of friends was of pleasant interest. Through the courtesy of Capt. D. E. Dismukes, Commandant of the Navy Yard, the Naval Band furnished a delightful concert from 4 to 5 p. m., which all enjoyed. The afternoon program opened with violin and piano selections by the Messrs. Gray and Lanzelli, so well given and appreciated.

Pupils of Miss Virginia Aichel gave interpretive dances, accompanied by Miss Barbara Flanagan at the piano; "Pierrette" by Miss Edna Eustace; "Narcissus" by Miss Jacqueline Dondero; "Russienne" by Miss Ruth Hassett and "Spring" by Miss June Wilson. All wore appropriate costumes and executed the dances with grace and beauty of motion and applause followed. Mrs. William F. Lyle of the Farragut House gave recitations which added to the success of the program and Mrs. Beatrice H. Scarborough gave two vocal selections in a praiseworthy manner and were heard with pleasure. The young ladies' trio from the Farragut House orchestra, playing violin, 'cello and piano, rendered several pleasing selections and Capt. Austin Kautz, U. S. N., of Washington, D. C., added to the interest of the program by his piano selections which were rendered in an artistic manner.

Home-made cake, candy, ice cream, lemonade, fruit punch, tea and sandwiches, fancy work and aprons were on sale at tables arranged about the lawn. The ladies in charge had few dull moments as patrons kept them busily engaged.

The flower table was one of the most attractive for such a fine display of beautiful flowers caught the attention of all. Such a variety is not often seen at a sale and the colorful effect was beautiful, while the arrangement of the bouquets in vases and jardinieres was most artistic Mrs. Charles W. Gray was chairman of this table, assisted by Mrs. Julius Dutton, Mrs. Albert D. Foster, Mrs. Harry L. Hilton.

Home-made candy of many varieties was sold at a table adorned with delphinium blue and yellow and bouquets of bachelor buttons and marigolds Presiding here were Mrs. J. Wallace Lear, Miss Cornelia P. Mugridge, Mrs. Wallace Garrett, Mrs. Nelson T. Wright, Mrs. Fred L. Wood, Miss Miriam Schurman, Mrs. William Courville, Mrs. Ernest Cook, Mrs. Fred L. Noyes, Miss Ruth Berryman. Little misses also assisted by carrying baskets of candy in the throng to sell, these being Barbara Elmer, Lona Hawkins, Priscilla Garrett, Priscilla Boynton, Dorothy Foster.

A large variety of delicious home-made cake was offered to patrons and sales were so brisk that it did not take long to dispose of so tempting an assortment of good things. Mrs. F. W. Hartford was chairman and her assistants were Mrs. Willis N. Rugg, Mrs. Amos R. Locke, Mrs. Arthur Rutledge, Mrs. Fred A. Gray, Mrs. Frye, Mrs. George W. Shapleigh, Mrs. William McEvoy, Mrs. John Sheehan, Mrs. John O'Neil, Mrs. Mary McKinnon, Mrs. Edgar Borden, Mrs. McMullen, Mrs. Alice Laskey, Mrs. Pace, Mrs. Everett Marston, Mrs. Alfred Barton, Mrs. Charles Bailey, Mrs. E. M. Fisher, Miss Clyde Spinney.

The apron and fancy work table was most interesting and the articles found a ready sale. Over 200 aprons were donated for the cause and there was such a fine variety from which to choose and they sold readily. In charge here was Mrs. J. Byron Paul, assisted by Mrs. Calvin Lear, Mrs. Pearl Foss, Mrs. Arthur H. Locke, Miss Pearl Wood, Mrs. Richard E. Hannaford, Miss Ina Montgomery, Mrs. Mattison, Mrs. Charles Green, Mrs. Fred S. Towle, Mrs. Roy Dixon, Mrs. Fred Proctor.

The lemonade table was prettily decorated in yellow crepe paper and ox-eyed daisies and nasturtiums, while baskets of oranges and lemons prettily arranged enhanced the effect. Iced drinks were sold here in charge of of Mrs. William Miskell and Miss Emily I. Bracelin.

Ice cream was sold by Mrs. Fred Ham, assisted by Mrs. I. B. Robinson, Miss Ruth Ham, Joseph Ham.

Afternoon tea was served at daintily arranged tables with silver and china and bouquets of flowers A large Japanese umbrella added beauty to this corner of the garden. Mrs. Edwin C. Blaisdell was in charge here assisted by Mrs. Arthur Howard and Mrs. William E. Marvin. Mrs. Herbert Perkins was in charge of the sandwich table, assisted by Mrs. Joseph P. Conner, Mrs. Justin French, Mrs. Myer P. Alkon, Mrs. S. Lilly.

The fish pond and mystery tree attracted much attention from the little folks and they hovered around there much of the time. The adornings were of orange and white crepe paper and nasturtiums. On the tree were packages of yellow crepe paper to represent oranges. Among the little folks present were the inmates of the Chase Home for Children who were special guests and they had a happy afternoon.

In charge of the fish pond was Mrs. Ernest Guptill, chairman, assisted by Mrs. James Jones, Mrs. A. Leon Ashe, Miss Marion Lord, Pearl Drew and Alice Grice.

Miss Jessie McFarlane, superintendent of the Home, ably assisted all the committees and did all possible to aid in the success of the affair. Miss McFarlane is ever thinking of the comfort of the inmates and deserves great praise for her untiring efforts in behalf of the institution. The inmates who were able were seated in chairs on the terraced lawn at the rear of the Home and many greeted them there and saw that they enjoyed the occasion. Others unable to be out viewed the scene on the lawn from their rooms. Many of the visitors enjoyed viewing the lower rooms of the beautiful old mansion and patients who were able received a few callers.

Mrs. Warren N. Davis was general chairman of the affair and devoted much time and thought to have it a success. Mrs. Davis has been chairman for each of these annual parties and deserves much credit for her efforts. Miss Stella Webster was cashier and had charge of the ticket table at the entrance gate. Everyone was pleased with the results, which will mean about $500 for the building fund of the Home

Through the efforts of Miss Emily Swenson the trio from the Farragut House orchestra furnished several musical selections, Miss Swenson arranging for their transportation to and from Rye Beach.

A number of the local clergymen were present and took much interest in patronizing the tables and assisting in the good cause.

The Wentworth Home for Chronic Invalids is in the fourteenth year of its existence and it is desired to again call the attention of the public to the urgent need for larger accommodations for patients, that more in need of the ministrations of this institution may be cared for there. At present the Home accommodates seventeen and several patients have to occupy one room. There is a great need of more smaller rooms but the trustees can do nothing to relieve this situation until the necessary funds for the new building are assured. Additions, however small, for the building fund will be gratefully received at any time. The policy of the trustees is to do their utmost with the facilities at their command until such time as a generous public shall make it possible for them to do more.

The Home is open to men, women and children afflicted with incurable diseases. Contagious diseases are not admitted or any disease which would render the patient liable to disturb or annoy the other members of the Home.

The officers of the Home are as follows:

President, Thomas H. Simes.

Vice presidents—Dr. C. W. Hannaford, Lewis E. Staples, Mrs. Warren N. Davis.

Treasurer, Harry E. Boynton.

MARRING THE BRIDGE APPROACH

It seems a shame to open up an entrance and exit from the Memorial bridge approach to State St. This approach was one of the beauty places and this piece of work now in progress certainly detracts. In the winter it will not only entail an expense but will be dangerous. The walk to the main entrance was but a short distance. Just why this job was started appears to be a conundrum.

ROOF GARDEN DANCING TONIGHT

No matter how warm and muggy it is on the street you will find a cool and refreshing breeze on the roof garden. This up-to-date place is getting more popular every day. It would have been crowded to capacity Tuesday evening but for the rain. Another big crowd is expected tonight. Miss Nellie Barron will render some pleasing songs. Professor Bo Garland has put the day in on the roof preparing his bass drum for a strenuous evening. The only roof garden in New England outside of Boston. Big city entertainment. Drop up tonight if only for a few minutes and look the place over. Dancing from 8 till eleven.

Cantilever Shoes
Give Absolute Foot Comfort

Cantilevers are made of the finest, soft kidskin; tough, pliant and long wearing. The flexible arch allows the muscles of the foot to work properly, thus strengthening the structure instead of weakening.

Cantilevers fit as no ordinary shoes will. And—Cantilevers cost no more than other shoes of equal grade.

Made in the types that look right and are right
